on various tax matters to a number of large international law firms. To ensure the utmost satisfaction of clients, the firm additionally maintains professional corporate and bookkeeping departments, and close associations with expert audit firms thereby allowing their clients to receive the full spectrum of services in accordance with their individual needs. Furthermore, through the association with the PageCorp Group, the firm provides comprehensive corporate services such as the provision of company secretarial, trustee, administration, and management services to a variety of clients in Cyprus and overseas.

Patrikios Pavlou & Associates LLC was selected to become the sole member for Cyprus of 'AITC' – Association of International Tax Consultants, an Internet-based network of independent corporate and tax professionals located in financially important centers around the world. Membership of AITC is by invitation only to firms that have the highest standards of professional competence and integrity. Through their association with AITC, Patrikios Pavlou & Associates LLC provides swift and accurate advice to clients regarding aspects of their local and international business arrangements, aimed at minimizing taxes through carefully controlled management of corporate and personal structures.

The major tax difficulty commonly encountered in Cyprus is the failure to fully realize the potential of the generous taxation system and of the elaborate network of double-taxation treaties. We strongly recommend adopting tax structures specifically designed for the particular needs as to ensure maximization of the benefits and we assist and advise our clients in development of such structures.
